

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION AND GUIDELINES FOR THE LEARN TO HUNT -BEAR PROGRAM:

These guidelines have been developed to achieve the goals of the program, ensure consistent implementation of the Learn to Hunt -Bear program across the state, and provide for a safe and enjoyable LTHB experience for all involved.

CLASS A LEARN TO HUNT –BEAR PROGRAM

The Number of Tags Allocated to the LTHB Program

The number of tags is determined based on workload, interest and ability of DNR Conservation Wardens and Wildlife Biologists to conduct the hunts, but will not exceed 70. The tags will be allocated by a centralized application process and subsequent random drawing.

Up to four (4) of the tags will be allocated through the Wisconsin Wildlife Federation, the Wisconsin Bowhunters Association, National Wild Turkey Federation, and the Conservation Congress. The participants for these tags will be selected by the respective organization by a DNR approved selection process. Once selected, the participant will then be coupled with a mentor and sponsoring warden/wildlife manager. Two (2) tags will be allocated to aid in DNR sponsored disabled and terminally ill hunt.

Selection of Participants

- Interested and qualified candidates must submit an application to the Bureau of Law Enforcement post marked by May 27. Applications will be available on the DNR LTH webpage or at DNR Service Centers starting April 1. Novice hunters age 10 and older are encouraged to apply. Prior to June 10 the random drawing of qualified applicants will be completed.
- Only “novice hunters” are eligible to be selected as a participant in the Learn to Hunt - Bear Program. A “novice hunter” for the purpose of the Learn to Hunt - Bear Program is:
 - Someone who has not participated in a Learn to Hunt -Bear in the past.
 - A person age 10 and older with less than two years of any hunting experience.
- Participants and mentors will be matched based on preferred hunting methods (i.e. bait or hounds). In an effort to reduce travel costs and to the extent possible, participants will also be paired by expressed geographic preference to mentors and sponsoring wardens/wildlife managers.

Mentor selection and expectations

- Mentors who are selected for all LTH programs need to understand the importance of leading by example by conducting hunts in a safe, legal, ethical and responsible manner projecting a positive image of hunters and the sport of hunting.

- The size of the group of mentors should be limited to number that aids in coordinating and managing the events. Demonstrating that hunting is an inclusive sport, LTHB groups are encouraged to have a combination of male and female adult mentors. If there are multiple mentors involved in an event, one mentor must be designated as the lead mentor. There is no limit to the number of mentors that can assist in a LTHB, however only six (6) mentors may be allowed at the point of kill.
- For participants 17 and younger, up to two legal guardians and any siblings of the participant may also go along on a hunt.
- To allow mentors, participants and immediate family members to understand the program and become comfortable with the each other lead mentors must attend the LTHB training day and all mentors are encouraged to attend the training day.
- Mentor applications are available on the DNR LTH website and are accepted all year. A background check is conducted prior to a mentor being approved in the LTHB program.
- If there are multiple mentors participating in an event, all mentors must be listed on the back side of the Mentor application form.

Learn to Hunt Event Requirements

- A Conservation Warden or Wildlife Biologist will be act as a field liaison for all Learn To Hunt -Bear events, acting as the primary contact and must be present at all LTHB events.
- A Wildlife Staff or a person designated and authorized by the Wildlife program, will participate in the training date, presenting on bear life history and management practices. Conservation Wardens will cover bear hunting ethics, firearm safety, rules and regulations.
- Only firearms should be used for Learn to Hunt -Bear events. The training day will have a live fire component to ensure that participants are familiar and proficient with the firearm they'll be using.
- Either the sponsoring Conservation Warden or Wildlife Staff, or a designated mentor should be in possession of a firearm to help ensure the safety of the participants.
- Only tags distributed by the Department for use in the Learn to Hunt - Bear program are authorized for use. Tags transferred to youth through the license transfer system may not to be used for the Learn to Hunt -Bear Program.
- It is encouraged that LTHB programs are in conjunction with a partner conservation organization. Using this approach increases the capacity of the program to hold more hunts, aids in providing the additional resources for a LTHB program, creates relationships between the participant, the DNR and the organization, and contributes to the future vitality of conservation organizations that are critical to future conservation efforts in the state.

- All LTHB program participants and mentors shall comply with all hunting regulations associated with bear hunting and the LTHB program.
- The hunt portion of the program should not take place prior to the third weekend in August.
